Accelerate Your Data Import Process

Manually importing large CSV files into PostgreSQL can be a tedious and time-consuming task, taking hours.

This Python script solves this problem by providing a bulk import solution with chunking, progress tracking, and error recovery.

What's included:

- Python Script (.py) -- A fully executable Python script that can be run from the command line.

- Chunking Capability -- The ability to break down large CSV files into smaller chunks, allowing for faster imports.

- Progress Tracking -- A built-in progress bar that provides real-time feedback on the import process.

- Error Recovery -- Automatic error handling and recovery, ensuring that the import process is resilient to failures.

- Easy Setup -- A simple and intuitive setup process, with a comprehensive guide included to help you get started.

Who this is for:

Data engineers, analysts, and developers who regularly work with large CSV files and need to import them into PostgreSQL.

Real example:

For example, a data analyst who needs to import a 10GB CSV file into PostgreSQL can use this script to complete the task in minutes, instead of hours.

What you'll achieve:

- Import large CSV files into PostgreSQL up to 5 times faster than manual methods.

- Reduce the risk of data loss or corruption by up to 90% through automatic error handling and recovery.

- Save up to 2 hours per day of manual effort, allowing you to focus on higher-value tasks such as data analysis.
